

PUKARA

ARCHAEOLOGICAL PROJECT

PERU

JUNE 20 – JULY 25, 2010

Pukara is located in the breathtaking Lake Titicaca Basin of Peru and is well known for its massive architecture, impressive multi-colored pottery, and elaborate stone carvings. Since 2000, the Pukara Archaeological Project has been actively mapping and excavating in various areas of this 2000-year-old site. During summer 2010, students will have an opportunity to excavate in both residential and ritual areas, process and analyze artifacts, and learn the basics of site mapping while working with an experienced team of American and Peruvian archaeologists. The program will also include a number of cultural and archaeological field trips around the Lake Titicaca Basin.
