

Non-Profit

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ ■ Resource List

The non-profit sector is very diverse; it is comprised of institutions and organizations that are sometimes described as the “third sector”, after government and business. These types of organizations work to better their communities by directly addressing issues of public concern through service, independent action, and civic engagement. Non-profits span the political spectrum and encompass every aspect of human endeavor, from symphonies to little leagues, as well as from homeless shelters and day care centers to natural resource conservation advocates.
