

High Rocks

Summer Internship

What is High Rocks?

The High Rocks is an award-winning leadership development program based in Pocahontas County, West Virginia. Our mission is to educate, empower and inspire young women in West Virginia.

What will I be doing and learning as a High Rocks intern?

A group of interns complete a ten-week internship at High Rocks from late May to early August. The internship has two main components—seminars and projects and hands-on experience working with teen girls. Interns support staff in summer programs (including two 14-day camps), work as mentors with individual teens, and finish an original curriculum of reading and discussion designed to enrich their work. Interns complete an individual project connecting their experiences at High Rocks with their own expertise, and work together on a group project to leave their mark at High Rocks. This creative and unique experience will help you grow as a leader, a thinker, and a doer. Our internship is rigorous emotionally, physically, and intellectually.

Who can apply to be a High Rocks intern?

Our internship is designed for college students, graduate students, and High Rocks alumnae from all across the country. All majors are welcomed as long as you bring a passion for hard work, youth development, and social change.

Benefits

Interns will leave High Rocks with theoretical as well as practical knowledge about West Virginia, the challenges facing girls, ethical social change, models of education and effective citizenship. They will be part of a growing network of women from all over the country who are dedicated to educating, empowering and inspiring girls.

Interns are provided with housing and with meals while summer camps are in session. Interns also receive a stipend for the summer, provided either by High Rocks or by their sponsoring school or program.
