

PAID SUMMER INTERNSHIP

The Reproductive Rights Activist Service Corps (RRASC) is a paid summer internship program of the Civil Liberties and Public Policy program (CLPP) at Hampshire College. RRASC is a national program that supports the leadership development of students interested in connecting their academic studies to reproductive rights and social justice activism through 10-week long, full-time, paid summer internships.

RRASC internships are hands-on and demanding, and provide opportunities for students to gain skills in organizing, advocacy, research, and writing at organizations and advocacy groups around the country.

When asked if she would participate in the RRASC program again, 2011 RRASC intern, Laura Harris said, "Of course! ...Being a RRASC has been one of the most worthwhile things I've done in my life."

To be eligible, you must:

- Be a current undergraduate student at one of the following institutions: Amherst College, Hampshire College, Greenfield Community College, Holyoke Community College, Mount Holyoke College, Smith College, Springfield Technical Community College, Westfield State University, or the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.
