

Honorary Degree Nomination

The Committee on Honorary Degrees is seeking names of individuals for consideration for the awarding of honorary doctoral degrees.

Nominators: Any individual from within or outside the Smith community may nominate an individual.

Criteria: “The College will consider women who are exemplars of excellence in a wide range of fields, both academic and non-academic. The College will also consider women and men who have had special impact on Smith College, on the education of women, or on women’s lives.”

Materials required: This nomination form must be accompanied by supporting materials (résumé of the nominee, articles concerning the nominee, and/or as much information as possible regarding the nominee’s professional accomplishments).

Procedure: The Committee on Honorary Degrees studies the nominations and recommends individuals to the Board of Trustees for honorary degrees to be awarded at an appropriate time. The President reviews the list of individuals approved for an honorary degree and determines whom to invite to Smith College to receive the degree.
