III. Counseling Services at Smith [12:20]

Members of the Counseling Task Force: Julie Ohotnicky, Dean of Students, Pam McCarthy, director of the Schacht Center, and Dwight Hamilton, VP for Inclusion, Diversity and Equity

- Counseling has increased by 10 percent; counseling services see more than 1/3 of the student body.
- Task Force recommendations:
  - Improve communications to disseminate information and services – creating a video and an app;
  - Reconsider center hours (in process);
  - Focus on nutrition, which is part of wellness;
  - Continue the reorganization of the Schacht Center with a focus to integrate programs;
  - Hire a case manager (preparing now);
  - Change the culture – there are other ways to improve mental health outside of therapy – acupuncture and religious services.
- CCCP members recommended a mental health quiz, similar to the alcohol quiz, to make students aware of all wellness and mental health support services at the college.
