Curious about teaching?
Interested in urban issues or social justice?
Want to be the change you wish to see in the world?
The Urban Education Initiative Interterm Fellowship Is for You!

UEI Fellowships are a chance to engage deeply in urban and educational issues in schools in major Northeastern cities alongside Smith College alumnae -- teacher-mentors who work on the leading edge of school reform. Our immersive educational internship is from January 5 to 21 and provides:

- First-hand experience teaching in Boston, New York City or Springfield.
- Connections to students from other colleges who are exploring the theory, practice and policy context of urban education.
- Classroom experience with mentor-teachers who are passionate about providing excellent educational opportunities to underserved youth.
- The freedom to create your own UEI experience in another city.

Questions? Contact Jo Glading-DiLorenzo, UEI coordinator, at jdilorenzo@smith.edu.

Application Deadline: Friday, October 30, 2015
SMITH URBAN EDUCATION INITIATIVE INTERTERM 2016 APPLICATION

Name_______________________________________Smith ID________________Class Year________

House or Off-Campus Address __________________________________________________________

Campus Box # _______________________________ Email_____________________________

Best Phone # to Reach You_____________________________________________________________

Major (tentative or declared)___________________________________________________________

Smith Reference Name ____________________________________Title ________________________

Experience Reference Name ____________________________________Title ____________________

Email _______________________________________ Phone  _________________________________

1. Submit a one-page essay that reflects upon and responds to the following: Why do you hope to be chosen for an Urban Ed Experience? Describe qualities and skills you possess that would be helpful to the learners and teachers in the urban school in which you are placed.

2. Attach a copy of your current Smith College transcript (unofficial).

3. References (see above): Please include the name of (no written reference needed): a teacher, adviser or professor at Smith who knows your work; another person who can talk about your experience and skills with children or teaching.

4. Place a “1” in the blank before your first choice placement, and a “2” and “3” before your second and third choice placements. Smith provides limited housing in New York City and Boston and cannot guarantee housing for every fellow. If you can provide your own housing, please CIRCLE the placement location.

_____Springfield        _____New York City        _____Boston

RETURN COMPLETED APPLICATION, TRANSCRIPT & ESSAY TO: Jo Glading-DiLorenzo, jdilorenzo@smith.edu, or drop in her mailbox in Morgan Hall, 37 Prospect Street, by Friday, October 30, 2015.

UEI Fellowship Timetable

● Application deadline: Friday, October 30, 2015
● Interviews: Tuesday, October 27 through Friday, October 30 (noon at Morgan Hall)
● Fellows Notified: Monday, November 2
● Mandatory Weekly Orientation: November 9 through December 14 (one session/week)
● UEI Fellowship Begins: Boston—Tuesday, January 5; New York City & Springfield—Tuesday, January 5