

“Parks sat so King
could march,

2013

2013

King marched so
Obama could run.”

Friday, February 1 7:30pm & Saturday, February 2 1:30pm
Bamboozled ♦ Weinstein Auditorium ♦ Free

The Student Event Committee (SEC) presents Bamboozled, a dark, biting satire of the television industry, focusing on an Ivy-League educated black writer at a major network. Frustrated that his ideas for a "Cosby Show"-esque take on the black family has been rejected by network brass, he devises an outlandish scheme: reviving the minstrel show. The hook: instead of white actors in black face, the show stars black actors in even blacker face. The show becomes an instant smash, but with the success also comes repercussions for all involved. Shown in conjunction with BSA's conference.

SMITH COLLEGE Office of Multicultural Affairs
www.smith.edu/oma
All events are open to the public. For disability accommodations, please call (413) 585-2071 or TTY (413) 585-2072

SMITH COLLEGE BSA PRESENTS:
Black Students' Alliance
New England Regional Conference
February 2, 2013

On February 2nd, the Black Students' Alliance will be hosting their New England Regional Conference at Smith College. The conference theme this year is "Breaking Boundaries: Reconstructing the Perception of Blacks in the Media." The keynote speaker will be Beverly Bond, the CEO/Founder of Black Girls Rock!, Inc. During the day there will be multiple workshops and in the evening there will be a formal banquet and keynote address. For more information please visit: <http://smithbsaconference2013.eventbrite.com/> or contact Taylor Goodridge tgoodrid@smith.edu

Oh, Comfort Food, How I Miss You!
The reality of cultural transitions for women of color at Smith.
Tuesday, February 5 ♦ 4:30pm—6:00pm ♦ Neilson Browsing Room

A student panel moderated by Jennifer Walters, Dean of Religious Life with introductory remarks by Benita Jackson, Associate Professor of Psychology. Panelists: Dannia Guzman '15, Imogene Williams '13, Gloria Lee '15
Sponsored by the Wurtele Center for Work & Life

SEC presents spoken word with BLUZ
Tuesday, February 5 ♦ 9:00pm ♦ Carroll Room ♦ FREE

From humble southern beginnings Boris Rogers aka Bluz has risen through the ranks of spoken word entertainment. A 2008 LEAF Festival poetry slam champion, he has authored a book of poetry, released three CD's, been featured at the Nuyorican Poets Cafe and Bowery Poetry Club. His relentless pursuit to reinvent himself and the art form keep him in the upper echelon of poetry. This is Bluz.

Friday, February 15 at 7:30pm and Saturday, February 16 at 1:30pm
The Intouchables ♦ Weinstein Auditorium ♦ Free

SEC presents The Intouchables. An irreverent, uplifting comedy about friendship, trust and human possibility, The Intouchables has broken box office records in its native France and across Europe. Based on a true story of friendship between a handicapped millionaire and his street smart ex-con caretaker, The Intouchables depicts an unlikely camaraderie rooted in honesty and humor between two individuals who, on the surface, would seem to have nothing in common.

Life

Freedom

Diversity