

Solomon Amendment

Smith College complies with the requirements of the 1996 Solomon Amendment (10 U.S.C. §983) which, as a condition of eligibility for federal funding, requires the college to provide military recruiters with the same level of access to campus facilities, students, and information as is provided to any other employer or organization recruiting students. According to this law, interference with military recruiting is illegal and is therefore not permitted.