Smith College cannot send a direct deposit (ACH) transaction to a foreign bank account. The College assumes no liability for direct deposit (ACH) transactions that are returned due to the fact that the account receiving the direct deposit is identified by the receiving financial institution as a foreign bank account.

If you are a recipient of Federal Work-Study funds (FWS), you may opt-out of the payroll direct deposit for FWS payments. For all other payments such as refunds, reimbursements, interterm and summer earnings, direct deposit is required.
