

New Students: Ada Comstock Scholars Summer To Do List

As you make your plans to join us in the fall, be sure to take care of the things on this list.
Doing so will help to assure a smooth and easy transition to Smith!

- Activate your Smith email account.
From this point on the only email account we will use to communicate with you is your Smith account. Instructions for activating your account were already sent to the email address you provided on your application for admission. We will send several electronic messages over the summer, so please check your Smith email regularly! If you are having trouble accessing your Smith email, please call the User Support Center at 413-585-4487.
- Purchase and read the 2019 summer reading selection on the Smith Reads webpage.
All new students are expected to read our summer reading selection and participate in discussion during Orientation.
- Sign in to the Smith Social Network.
The Smith Social Network is the hub of student engagement. Browse through all of Smith's student organizations, upcoming events and your very own Entering Adas page!
- Look for information in your email in late June about transfer credits and summer registration.
You will be able to register for courses in late July, date will be announced later. You will receive an email from the registrar's office about your transfer credits and with information about advising and registration for July.
- Take required placement exams.
Information can be found on the Registrar's website about departments that offer placement exams. Many departments have online exams that must be completed before you arrive on campus.
- Sign up for an Ada Orientation Group Program.
Entering Adas have their own Orientation Group and therefore will not need to sign up. As the date draws near, more information will be given to you from your Ada coordinator.
