MSW Admitted Applicants: Admitted Applicants can appeal an award if they feel there is additional information which was not taken into consideration in the original award determination.

MSW Returning Students: Returning Students must apply for need-based aid for each new academic year of graduate study. The School makes every effort to maintain the level of financial aid originally offered into a student’s second year. Unfortunately, our funding is limited and, in general, we are unable to consider a decrease in income or assets during the program as the majority of students do experience this change in circumstances once enrolled as a full time SSW student. Final Summer Students who will enter their final summer session may apply for up to $1,500 in need-based grant aid; otherwise, students should plan to finance this session through federal loans or other personal resources. Returning students experiencing emergency circumstances (illness, etc) may submit an appeal.

Appeal Information:
Please detail the circumstances and the financial impact to you and attach applicable supporting documentation.

I attest that the information provided is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge.
