Reproductive Justice in the Age of Trump

Loretta Ross

Loretta Ross was a co-founder and the national coordinator of the SisterSong Women of Color Reproductive Justice Collective, a network of women of color and allied organizations that organizes women of color in the reproductive justice movement. An expert on the politics of women’s health, hate groups and sexual violence, she was Smith’s activist-in-residence in 2013.

Tuesday, April 11
Stoddard Hall Auditorium
7–9 p.m.

Book sale and signing following the talk